

Advanced Page Options

At some point, you'll probably want to have more flexibility than we've shown you in basic page editing.

For instance, while you can set a different background image for each page, rather than having the same image on all of them.

In the Page tab in the Settings panel, you can do just that and quite a bit more.

To change the background image for a page:

- scroll down the Tab to the Toggle for Set Page Background
- Click it
- A new section appears allowing you to upload a background image.
- To undo this, simply click the Set Page Background toggle again.

You can go further than just the background though, you can change the entire theme in the same fashion.

If your page is on the top-level of the menu structure in your site, you are also presented with a direct link. You may need to save your site first, to see this link, but using this link you can direct users directly to this site and this page.

You might want to create a page, but not make it visible yet, or want to create your own site menu using the Text widget. If so, we have added the option to Hide page from menu. This means it and any subpages will not display in the site when viewing the site. The pages will reappear when editing that site.

The final option here is the Delete Page button. Be careful with this option. You can only undo deleting a page by not saving your changes when you close the editor. If you close the editor and save your changes, the page is gone forever. And of course, if you don't save changes, any other edits you made will be lost.
