

Photo Stream

The Photo Stream Widget allows you to display a collection of images that have been sent to a site.

In the edit panel, you can add tags to the photo stream so that it only shows images with that tag.

In the tutorial video, the tag is war. Leaving this blank would display all images that are sent to this site.

You also have the option to hide the header from within the editing panel.

Hiding the header displays the photo stream like this, and showing the header displays the photo stream like this.
