

Introducing Markbook

Welcome to Markbook, Frog's application designed to make setting, marking and sharing homework easier.

Markbook works with Frog's assignments to provide you an instant overview of your class. The online spreadsheet allows you to record work as handed-in, shows you if students have read the assignments and lets you set a Target Grade for each student.

You do not have to mark work in Frog, but if you do, then markbook will calculate an Average Mark for you and if you have set a Target Grade, markbook will colour code each students' work based on their target grade.

Markbooks are viewable by all staff, so team teaching and marking is easy. You can favourite markbooks to make the easy to find.

From the overview screen, each markbook button shows you a count for work ready to mark and if you have any messages from students struggling with their homework.

Inside each assignment you can mark the work in only a few clicks before moving onto the next student. Of course, if you set a quiz as homework, the marking will be done for you.

You can use this option to reuse any homework with any class.

From the class page, if you wish you can even add additional non-assigned assessments, such as mock exam results.

As students move from class to class, their homeworks, target grades and average marks will move with them.

Finally, when you create a new assignment from the class page, the assignment wizard opens, with your subject, class and mark scheme imported. Saving you a few clicks.

Of course, you don't have to use Markbook, but we hope the benefits of online, shared marking and reporting will save you a lot of time and effort.
